

The Sara Little Turnbull

VISITING DESIGNER SPEAKER SERIES

Designing Migration: Serving Human Mobility and Justice

How does the migration system currently operate? How can it be made more equitable? What are the most hazardous aspects of migration? How can design help alleviate those dangers? These questions and more will be explored with some of today's most significant voices in related fields.

Moderated by: Alyshia Galvez, Professor, Doctoral Program in Anthropology, Graduate Center of the City University of New York and Department of Latin American and Latino Studies, Lehman College
Laura Silva, Vice President for Accessibility Technology UX Design Lead, Bank of America

February 18
How Sci-Fi Helps Us
Reimagine Dystopian and Utopian Migration Futures

Alex Rivera

Filmmaker

Introduced by David Schwittek,
Assistant Professor of Graphic Design and Digital Media, Art Department,
Lehman College

February 25
Understanding
Stakeholders and
Their Impact

Meghan Preiss

Design Researcher and Strategist
Ford Motor Company

Introduced by Peter O. Nwosu,
Provost, Lehman College

March 4
Case Study:
Roll With the Punches

Roque Silva

Principal Designer
Capital One

Introduced by James Mahon,
Dean of the School of Arts and Humanities,
Lehman College

March 11
Design Thinking: Solutions
Based on Empathy and Customer Obsession

Feryal Khawar

Senior Users Experience Designer
Amazon

Introduced by Bartholomew Bland,
Executive Director, Lehman College
Art Gallery

March 18
Bridge-Building:
Parasites and Hosts

Marco Saavedra

Activist, Author and Painter
New York City

Introduced by Daniel Lemons,
President, Lehman College

March 25
Systemic Violence
Toward Asylum Seekers
and the Role of Nonprofits

Melissa Chandler

Immigration Rights Advocate
New York City

Introduced by Teresita Levy,
Executive Director, Office of International Programs and Community Engagement,
Lehman College